The district Title I office monitors and keeps documentation of this on file.

3. Utilize strategies to ensure meaningful communication and accessibility.

Describe the methods that will be used to ensure meaningful, ongoing communication between home, school and community.	A monthly school newsletter goes home, highlighting the great things going on at Palm Bay Elementary along with upcoming meetings and events. Flyers and Blackboard messages are sent home to advertise specific events. Facebooks shows the great things Palm Bay Elementary is doing in the community. We also host Academic Parent Teacher Team (APTT) meetings that discuss data and give materials for families to use at home. These occur 3 x a year. At the classroom level many teachers have weekly newsletters and/or folders that go home to families. Grades 3-6 utilize planners and AVID binders to carry information home. Letters are sent home with every student that has been taught for four or more consecutive weeks by a teacher who is out of field. A copy of the letter and a list of the parents who receive the letter is kept on file as documentation for auditing purposes.
Explain how families are provided information regarding the curriculum, achievement levels, progress monitoring and assessments.	Families are provided information regarding the curriculum, achievement levels, progress monitoring and assessments at our Title I meetings, in the school newsletter and during parent conferences.
Describe how your school provides information to families in their native language. What languages do you provide?	Currently Palm Bay Elementary has families that speak Spanish, Haitian-Creole, and Arabic. We offer translations for documents and provide flyers and newsletters in the family's native language using Google Translate.
How are the needs of families with disabilities accommodated to ensure they have access to meetings, workshops, and/or events?	All families are invited to participate in meetings, workshops and/or events. Reasonable accommodations such as wheelchair access are made to allow families to participate.
Describe the opportunities families have to participate in their child's education.	Families are encouraged to become volunteers in our school so they can work in the classroom or attend fieldtrips. Several events have been placed on hold per CDC recommendations. We offer a math and literacy night, Academic Parent Teacher Team meetings, and a Parent Resource room for families to check out materials for their child to use at home.
Describe how your school shares the PFEF, SWP, CNA and other Title I documents with community members.	Palm Bay Elementary advertises through the school newsletter and Blackboard when meetings will be held or when surveys are available for families to give input. We hold meetings throughout the year where we discuss the Parent Engagement Plan and the School Improvement Plan and revise them as needed. The plans are then approved by the district and we post them to the school website and offer copies and translations.

What are the barriers for parents and families to attend workshops/events and how do you overcome these? (transportation, translation, etc)	In the Brevard County survey taken by 97 Palm Bay Elementary families, 48% of families indicated that their work schedule prevented them from attending events, followed by 31% indicating events were held at an inconvenient time. When asked about the best time to attend, evenings were preferred by 72% of families and they would like to attend family fun nights, 74%, followed by math and reading strategies at about 47%. We have planned several evening events to help boost parent participation.
How are flexible dates and times for meetings, events and/or workshops offered? (Give examples)	Flexible dates and times for meetings and events are offered throughout the year. SAC meetings are on Mondays, and Title I event nights are on Thursdays this year. Some events like volunteer orientation and Kindergarten Orientation are offered twice in the same day.
How do families who are unable to attend building capacity events receive information from the meetings?	Some meetings, such as the Annual Title I meeting presentation, will be uploaded to our website. Teachers reach out to families that missed the Academic Parent Teacher Team meetings to give them the information and to send home the learning materials.
What strategies were used to increase family and community engagement in decision-making?	Two different methods were used to gather information to help increase family and community engagement in decision-making. One was an end-of-year Skype meeting since schools were closed due to COVID. The Title I evaluation was presented and feedback from families was documented. The second was a survey sent to families through Blackboard, Peachlar and teacher notifications. The survey provided information from the Title I evaluation and asked for feedback for the upcoming year.
