Based on data, the math and reading interventionist will plan and work with the teacher to ensure students who need any additional layer of support are seen daily. The math and reading interventionist will also keep a progress monitoring log of student progress toward standards mastery.
2. Prescribed Professional Development for teachers based on observations, walk-throughs, teacher needs surveys. Once a month, administration will host a "Terrific Tuesday" professional development for teachers who need a refresher or quick professional development session on a specific topic identified from teacher professional development survey.

Incentives for Instructional Personnel

Explain the strategies the school will implement to identify, recruit, retain, and reward instructional personnel.

As referenced in the K-12 ESEA Common Program Guidance, Recruitment, retention and reward incentives must be based on a three-year aggregate state value-added model (VAM) score. If state VAM is not available, another student growth model may be proposed. The student growth model must be fair and reliable. The LEA must submit the model demonstrating the classification and distribution of non-state VAM teacher scores for approval. Incentives can be part of a structured pay system or a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU); however, the above criteria shall apply. Incentives for attendance and non-instructional personnel are not allowable. Recruitment incentives for teachers with less than one year of experience or for hard to staff positions will be considered on a case by case basis.

To assure that the school will implement strategies to identify, recruit, retain, and reward instructional personnel, George Washington Carver will:

1. Providing teachers with the opportunity to grow professionally through giving teachers meaningful opportunities to become school leaders in areas during Terrific Tuesday professional development such as: Growth Mindset, Student Progress Monitoring using Technology, reading and math instructional strategies.

2. Teacher shout outs will go out weekly in the G.W. Carver Wildcat Gazette. Teachers will be recognized when they are going above and beyond to ensure students are successful. For example: morning and after school tutoring, facilitating parent meetings, and Implementing academic programs for students.

The on-site instructional coaches and district specialists will create a culture of learning and facilitate a growth mindset for teachers. Administration, coaches, and interventionist will meet regularly with teachers to develop their skills and give one-on-one coaching when needed.

5. The state has instituted bonuses, supplements, and other incentives to attract and retain teachers in under-performing schools.

Professional Development

Explain the strategies the school will implement to provide professional development that focuses on academic rigor, direct instruction, and creating high academic and character standards.

- *Vertical Articulation planning per nine weeks.

- *Establish Terrific Tuesday professional Development - quick professional development to sharpen best practices, ways to engage students in the learning process.

3. Coaching Cycles: Based on weekly observations/walk-throughs, the Reading and Math coach implement coaching cycles to assist teachers with developing rigorous lessons to increase student engagement, promote higher level thinking, and align instruction to Florida state standards. The coaches plan and co-teach lessons with teachers to implement the focus agreed upon. Coaching Cycles include, but are not limited to: rigorous questioning, student engagement, using student data to focus student instruction, and developing data-based small group instruction.
