Direct employment policy, roles and responsibilities

Explain how direct employment of school-based mental health services providers (school psychologists, school social workers, school counselors and other licensed mental health professionals) will reduce staff-to-student ratios.

ICA provides a full-time school social worker to work directly with students or families experiencing mental health issues. Teachers receive training concerning possible warning signs that a student may be experiencing mental health distress to refer them to the social worker.

Describe your district's established policies and procedures to increase the amount of time student services personnel spend providing direct mental health services (e.g., review and revision of staffing allocations based on school or student mental health assistance needs).

If there is an increase of time that students need for direct mental health service it will be incorporated into the student's daily school schedule. We collaborate with teachers by using the same procedures that are utilized when a student has an Individual Education Plan.

Describe the role of school based mental health providers and community-based partners in the implementation of your evidence-based mental health program.

Community-based partners provide parent and teacher presentations and trainings, for education and awareness purposes on mental health. School and community providers support students through individual services or helping to determine additional supports.

Community Contracts/Interagency Agreements

List the contracts or interagency agreements with local behavioral health providers or Community Action Team (CAT) services and specify the type of behavioral health services being provided on or off the school campus.

NCH Psychiatry & Psychology Center-Comprehensive diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up team approach for individuals in crisis with mental health and substance abuse issues. Agency has own funding sources and Medicaid also helps to pay for any services not covered.

David Lawrence Center- Provides comprehensive inpatient, outpatient, residential and community-based prevention and treatment services for children and adults who experience mental health, emotional, psychological and substance abuse challenges. Agency has own funding sources and Medicaid also helps to pay for any services not covered.

AVOW- The Avow Kids program, designed for children ages 5-17, provides support and companionship to children who are grieving. Agency has own funding sources and Medicaid also helps to pay for any services not covered.

GPS (Greater Program Synergizing) partnership with FSU Center for Child Health & Stress- Provides one on one or group mentoring for students being identified with needs. The program has a licensed clinical psychologist that comes to the school to work with the student and provides feedback as necessary to teachers, school social worker and parents. Agency has own funding sources and Medicaid also helps to pay for any services not covered.

Healing Educational Alternatives for Deserving Students (HEADS)- HEADS helps by providing clinical support services that impact every area of the clients' lives. They start by identifying the current emotional, educational, developmental levels and social skills of each client and develop a treatment plan that helps them regain emotional and social regulation. Agency requires for families to have Medicaid to pay for services provided.
