2. Supports for School Improvement

a. Alignment of Resources

Describe the process through which the district identifies and aligns all district resources (e.g., personnel, instructional, curricular, policy) in order to meet the needs of all students and maximize desired student outcomes. Include the methodology for coordinating and supplementing federal, state and local funds, services and programs to align to interventions in Priority and Focus schools. Provide the person(s) responsible, frequency of meetings, how an inventory of resources is maintained and any problem-solving activities used to determine how to apply resources for the highest impact.

The Superintendent and senior staff members meet weekly to discuss and make decisions that provide for meeting the needs of all students and maximize student outcomes. There are 2 assistant superintendents, Human Resources/Employee Relations and District Support Services and 2 Executive Directors, Learning and Student Support Services. Through this structure, the Assistant Superintendents, Executive Directors and the district staff with whom they work collaborate where appropriate to ensure that there are no gaps in procedures and processes.

The Learning Division staff, under the direction of the Executive Director of Learning, meets weekly and takes the lead role in the alignment of curriculum and assessment, as well as interventions for ALL district schools. The Coordinator of State and Federal Programs is tasked with the lead role for the SIP/DA processes. She is also responsible for Titles I, II, and III; this facilitates the coordination and inventory of supplemental resources for those schools.

Monthly meetings between District leaders and school leaders provide opportunities for discussion of issues that affect the entire district, or at grade-band levels. The grade band meetings are facilitated by the Director of Elementary Learning and the Executive Director of Learning who also fulfills the role of Director for Secondary Learning. The joint meeting is facilitated by the Superintendent.

All district schools utilize the 8 step problem solving process through a series of grade level/content team data meetings that occur 3 times annually, after each progress monitoring assessment window. The information garnered and decisions made in these meetings are then given to each school's SIP planning team, and becomes part of the data that they use to write, monitor and revise the SIP. This process takes the ownership of school improvement out to the teachers and classrooms where the change must occur. The information in the schools' SIPs provides the basis for the development of this District Improvement and Assistance Plan.

The Director of Elementary Learning visits the school in need of targeted support at least monthly, and usually 2-3 times/month. She is highly involved in monitoring the instructional processes through classroom walkthroughs and meetings with the principals. The contractually mandated District Intervention Team and District Monitoring Team for low performing schools meet with the school's teams monthly as a group, and individual members meet with the principal and/or team as needed/appropriate. Through these varied meetings, the alignment of resources and activities is discussed and adjustments are made if necessary.

District leaders engage in regular visits to schools, relative to their role and the ways in which they assist in the operation of the school and/or support for instructional leadership. These leaders include: Superintendent; Assistant Superintendents and Executive Directors, Director of Elementary Learning, Exceptional Student Education, Professional Development, Intervention Services, and Charlotte Technical College, Coordinator of State and Federal Programs and the district Psychometrician.

b. School Allocation Process

Describe the way in which the district allocates resources to schools. Include the person(s) responsible for this process, frequency of data review and decision making, and processes used to differentiate and monitor resource supports.

GENERAL FUND BUDGET ALLOCATIONS

Person responsible: Gregory S. Griner, Chief Financial Officer

School Budget Allocations

Personnel allocations are based on various staffing requirements (enrollment, program needs, State constitutional class size requirements, etc.) within the framework of the district staffing formula.

Other expenditure allocations are based on student population and made to schools for all non-personnel costs of Instruction, Pupil Personnel, Media, and School Administration functions. Its distribution to the various functions is left to the school's discretion.

State and district categorical project allocations are restricted allocations that must be expended for specific purposes and are monitored on a project basis by the project coordinator. Schools receive categorical allocations for textbooks (instructional materials) and Instructional Technology.

Operation of Plant - Allocations for various Operation of Plant expenditures (electricity, water, telephone, etc.) for each school/facility are determined and monitored at the central office level and are reviewed with Principals/directors annually or more often on an as needed basis.

Custodial Supplies Allocations for each location are under the control of the site administrator. This allocation is based on a combination of facility population and square footage.

FEDERAL TITLE PROGRAMS

Titles I, II, and III are managed by the LEA's Coordinator of State and Federal Programs. All of these budgets are monitored at least monthly by the Coordinator.

TITLE I

The budgeting process for the next year of Title I programs has multiple facets:

- ? Strategic planning with Title I school principals, tying the Title I program with their school-based initiatives in their SIPs;
- ? Consultation process with private school administrators;
- ? Consultation with Homeless Education Project and Foster Care staff;
- ? Consultations with Division of Learning administrators regarding the strategic planning, budgeting, and implementation to ensure alignment with LEA initiatives and priorities;
- ? Set Date Certain and pull poverty data; rank schools by poverty data to be served by per-pupil allocations;

? Set Initiatives through school and district level consultation, and related expenses;

Budget is drafted, per pupil allocations established, school allocations sent to principals;

Title I school principals create a budget template for their own schools and submit it to the LEA's Coordinator of State and Federal Programs;

Final budget draft is completed and submitted with grant narrative by due date.

After the grant is approved by FLDOE, changes are made through the amendment process. Schools may receive additional allocations through the roll forward process at mid-year.

TITLE II funds are allocated at the district level for district priorities and initiatives. Through strategic planning and consultation that involves school and district stakeholders, the professional development priorities for the next year are established and budgeted. School leaders are notified of the PD activities that are being funded through the grant, and they are able to access the activities/ funds by having their staff sign up for the programs through the district's True North Logic online PD management system. School based PD is established as a component of the SIP process. Review and monitoring is conducted at least monthly by the Director of Professional Development, in consultation with the LEA's Coordinator of State and Federal Programs.

TITLE III funds are not directly allocated to the schools. The ELL students attend their local schools rather than center programs. In continuing with last year's process, the LEA has used an ELL per pupil allocation to allow schools to select how to fund materials and resources for the ELL students. Schools may select materials or programs that the site-based teacher(s) believes will assist specific students, based on data and personal understanding of the student's needs for English language acquisition and academic content. A short review of how ELL funds are used at each school is conducted periodically throughout the school year to maximize the use of funds. Program and budget review and monitoring is conducted at least monthly by the LEA's ESOL Director, in consultation with LEA's Coordinator of State and Federal Programs.

TITLE X funds are managed by the Director of Intervention Services, and allocation is based on the needs of the students served by this grant. The Director collaborates with the Coordinator of State and Federal Programs and other district staff to maximize the benefits of these funds. The Director of Intervention Services also oversees programs and services to foster care children in collaboration with the Coordinator of State and Federal Programs.

IDEA funds are allocated to schools and/or reserved for the district by the Director of Exceptional School Education, in collaboration with the CFO and school principals. The decisions include a number of variables including:

- > The number of ESE students and their placement level;
- > The supplemental staffing needed to support the students;
- > The supplemental instructional materials needed;
- > Funding for unique accommodations detailed in students' IEPs;
- > Support for transitional programs to help students continue moving towards the least restrictive environment; and,
- > Other unique student, teacher and school needs to support student success.

All federal grant applications and amendments are reviewed and signed by the Superintendent prior to submission. The School Board also approves all federal grant applications.

General Revenue Budget process follows all prescribed state statutes and regulations, and the Finance Dept., under the leadership of the CFO, ensures that the expenditures of general and federal funds follow the statutes and regulations, and handles all of the fiscal reporting functions.

c. Modifications to System Policies and Practices

Identify specific policies and practices the district shall seek to add, modify or remove in order to establish or strengthen systems that support school-based leadership teams to implement interventions. Provide the rationale for the proposed changes and the steps required to make the modifications, including person(s) responsible for implementation and follow-up.

Beginning in the 2015-2016 school year, CCPS modified its practices for school improvement specifically to support school-based leadership and initiatives to effectively implement interventions for increased student achievement and continues to adhere to this process. This comprehensive approach to school improvement was encapsulated in the District Strategic Plan (DSP). The progress made towards the DSP goals begins with the classrooms, as the school-based Data Days facilitate teacher-driven data analysis, and barrier and strategy identification. The input from the Data Days specifically inform school-based improvement teams that formulate their SIPs through selected barriers and strategic actions. It is the common SIP barriers and actions that, in conjunction with Division of Learning initiatives, likewise formulate the DIAP for student achievement. The DIAP in turn serves as the annual plan for the attainment of the district goals of the DSP. The entire process, from inception and implementation, to reflection and modification, is essential in attaining the goal of the DSP. It is the collaborative efforts of classroom teachers, school administrators, Division of Learning members, and district staff that has advanced articulation throughout the district and made strides towards achieving the goal of our District Strategic Plan- that with One Voice, One Team, and One Message, CCPS will ascend to the #1 district in the state.

The Executive Director, Director and Coordinator within the Division of Learning are responsible for supporting and guiding the implementation of the DIAP. As appropriate per role, DOL directors and the coordinator will monitor the action steps delineated in the DIAP and supervise the monitoring of the SIPs in support of school-based leadership teams as they implement school/district interventions. These efforts are done in collaboration with other Division of Learning leadership team members such as curriculum and instruction, and PD and technology specialists, in alignment with the district's Strategic Plan and the SIP goals and strategies of the LEA's schools. The strategies and actions steps are found in the Goals section of this document.

d. Operational Flexibility

Provide the district's definition of "operational flexibility" provided to schools implementing a District-Managed Turnaround option under section 1008.33, Florida Statutes, or a Turnaround, Transformation or Restart with EMO model under the SIG 1003(g) program as it applies to school-level autonomy over staffing, scheduling and budgeting.

Operational Flexibility in Charlotte County is defined as the latitude given to school principals of schools in need or targeted or comprehensive support, as the experts of their school's needs, to make decisions that will affect their schools. These principals, with the support of the division of learning, choose how to spend school improvement grant funds to best meet the needs of their school and provide the greatest level of support in areas of weakness. Principals, with support and guidance from the Executive Director of Learning and the Director of Elementary Learning, choose whether or not to make staff changes or to add additional staff for assistance as well as to choose which programs and initiatives will help fortify instruction to make the greatest impact on student achievement.

3. Sustainability of Improvement

a. Describe how the district will sustain improvements that are a result of the interventions described in Part III of this plan after the schools' Differentiated Accountability designation of Focus or Priority is removed. Include any plans to reorganize personnel, redistribute resources or reach out to community organizations, unions and other partners to build capacity for and sustainability of improvements.

The sustainability of the improvements will be maintained after the district no longer has schools in the Differentiated Accountability program, due to changes in the LEA's improvement process. The Problem Solving component of the DIAP will continue to be completed annually, as it is embedded as the annual component of the district's 10-year Strategic Plan. The DIAP will continue to be developed from the information in the School Improvement Plans from all CCPS schools and centers. Like the SIPS, funding for initiatives will continue to be provided through a combination of local, state and federal budget sources.

Likewise, community organizations and partners are involved with schools and the district in numerous ways, and may or may not be tied to a specific program. The LEA receives grant funding at both the LEA and school level through the Suncoast Credit Union Foundation, the Charlotte County Arts Council, and local service organizations. Rather, they are a way that our community comes together to support one another. Since 2004 when Hurricane Charley devastated our community, this has become a part of the community culture.

For the 2017-18 school year, the LEA has one school designated for targeted support and improvement, Peace River Elementary School. Additional resources and support provided to this school is through the federal grant programs Title I and UniSIG. The materials put in place this year via the UniSIG will remain sustainable through careful planning and monitoring after DA designations and SIG funding are officially removed.

The well established district and school Partnership and Performance Councils continue as the school-based organizational structure that provides for collaborative work in the improvement process. The PPC is the school based group that serves as the nucleus for writing and monitoring the implementation of the school's SIP, and will assist with mid-year and end-of-year reflections of the impact of school strategic actions in reducing the barriers to instructional effectiveness and student achievement.

B. Stakeholder Involvement

1. Parent and Family Engagement Plan (PFEP) Link

A PIP has not been uploaded for this district.

2. Family and Community Engagement

Describe the district's ongoing mechanisms for engaging families and the community in school improvement efforts.

The LEA facilitates a district PFEPTs (Parent and Family Engagement Planning Team), comprised of parents from Title I schools and representative of each school's demographics, school staff, and administration. Additionally, district staff including the Coordinator of State and Federal Programs and the Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison, collaborate with the school PFEPTs to develop, implement, support, and review the school Parent and Family Engagement Plans, as well as the District Parent and Family Engagement Plan. Parents are encouraged and invited to participate in all levels of district and school planning as part of ongoing consultation with school stakeholders. Family Engagement and school improvement information is provided to the schools PFEPTs, SAC, and PTO organizations. The district hosts a day in the spring for school PFEPTs to meet together to discuss, review, and provide input for revisions of the district PFEP, including use of funds, barriers to family engagement, best practices, and professional development opportunities regarding family engagement. As PFEPT members leave the school teams new members are recruited and trained. Ongoing consultation to review the progress of the plan is held at individual schools and at the district level as facilitated by the Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison, and the Coordinator of State & Federal programs.

SAC members for each school are representative of the school's and served area demographics. SAC members receive training about their roles and responsibilities from the district. School SAC committees meet monthly to review school data and provide input, and approve school improvement plans in the fall of each year. Additionally, SAC members review upcoming school events, current issues, and concerns.

Parents are notified through the Parent Guide, school newsletters, school and district websites, through PTO and SAC membership, invitations, letters sent home and personal phone calls or face-to-face invitations from administrators and parent specialists regarding opportunities to participate on the PIPT and other planning committees. Parental input regarding family engagement in schools is documented through the annual Title I Parent Survey Report and the schools' PFEPT PFEP (Parent and Family Engagement Plan) evaluation process. Another opportunity for input from family and community members is the School Climate Survey. This questionnaire provides stakeholders a vehicle to rate their school on several indicators, including the ultimate question, "Would you recommend your child's school to another family?"

School improvement planning committees include parents, often SAC members, administrators, staff, and guidance counselor. In Title I schools, the committees also include the lead teacher/instructional coach. Committee members review the school's Needs Assessment Survey, the annual Title I Parent Survey Report, the Family Reading Experience data and other data on student achievement and demographics to develop the School Improvement Plan.

The Title I team offers training for staff at each Title I school on the importance of engaging families in all levels of partnership based on Joyce Epstein's Six Keys to Parent Involvement. Training topics include but are not limited to: Creating Family Friendly Schools, Effective Problem Solving Techniques, Using Student Data for Effective Parent Conferences, and Conferencing Skills. These courses are offered to district staff to increase awareness and understanding of ways to support family engagement for student achievement. The Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison also facilitates a Powerful Partnerships in-service training and PLC to train staff in building relationships with students and families. Non-Title I schools are invited to participate in these training opportunities also.

The Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison and the schools provide training throughout the year to parents regarding their important role as their child's most important teacher, their partnership with the school, school plans, district and state assessments, understanding the use of student data, and age-appropriate topics such as the transition from one school level to another, and the use of social media.

The LEA Title I set-aside funds for parental involvement are used to support the district's initiative of locating a Family Reading and Resource Center in each Title I school which provides school and community resources and support to families. Set-aside funds provide full time staff, including staff with translation skills as needed and as available. A Title I Paraprofessional Achievement and Family Associate (AFA) at each Title I school participates in a monthly training and PLC. This year's AFA PLC continues its focus identified last year on working with families through technology. The Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison supports this focus through training using FOCUS (the district's student information system), Microsoft Excel & Publisher (for informational letters, flyers, marketing, and record keeping), social media, Google Docs (for the creation and sharing of PFEPs and other related documents), Remind (for sharing family engagement resources, communicating with parents and advertising events) and Title I Crate (the district's online program for Title I monitoring and compliance documentation). Funds are used to purchase a variety of resources and materials for literacy and math and training and supplies for parent communication. Funds also provide for the AFAs to coordinate family engagement training and activities. Funds provide for registration and transportation for all Title I AFAs and a parent from each school to attend the "Hooked on Family Engagement to Increase Student Achievement" Conference in St. Petersburg, FL in November of 2017. Title III funds provide for additional parents of ELL students to attend.

3. Engagement of School Leadership

Describe how the district involves school leadership in the development and implementation of turnaround plans and other school-level interventions.

District and school level leaders meet multiple times during the month in meetings for Principals, Assistant Principals, and District Leadership Team that includes school and district leaders. The leaders within the Division of Learning meet weekly. All of these meetings listed involve the monitoring of district and school level school improvement initiatives. All CCPS schools use the 8 step problem solving process through the state CIMS template. The 8 Step Problem Solving and SIP development direct the school level interventions. District leadership and staff assist as appropriate and needed in the interventions. School and district leadership work collaboratively on the mid and end-of-year school improvement reflections in identifying common barriers, sharing best practices for strategic actions, and driving the initiatives for the district improvement plan in continuous support of the district strategic plan.

3. Educator Quality

a. School Leadership Teams

Describe the process and criteria by which the district determines and ensures each Focus and Priority school has a school leadership team of high quality, including a principal and assistant principal with a record of increasing student achievement in a setting with similar challenges. Include how the district determines whether to retain or replace members of the leadership team.

The superintendent assigns school leaders with records of leading schools with strong achievement or improvement to lower performing schools to facilitate the movement towards higher levels of student achievement. For all schools, the superintendent has articulated specific, measurable goals for improvement on grade level or subject area state assessments, and for total points earned for school grades. Through principal evaluations, consideration of school grade and student assessment outcomes, and consultation with the appropriate District Leadership Team, the superintendent decides if school leadership team members need to be retained or replaced.

b. Instructional Staff

Describe the process by which the district determines whether to retain or replace members of the teaching staff in Focus and Priority schools whose data shows they have not contributed to improved student outcomes.

To determine whether to retain or replace teaching staff in schools in need of targeted or comprehensive support, school leaders review state assessment outcomes, student progress monitoring data, and teacher evaluations to measure teacher effectiveness in improved student achievement. Should school leaders determine that a teacher has not contributed directly or indirectly, the proper procedures per the Human Resources department and employee handbook are followed in releasing teachers, or reassigning them to roles better aligned with their abilities, and with support in improving them.

D. Professional Capacity

1. Common Planning Time

Describe how the district ensures appropriate resources are allocated to ensure the master schedule at Focus and Priority schools allows for common planning time, as defined in Rule 6A-1.099811(2)(e), F.A.C.

The district offers support to schools in working with school administrative and instructional leaders on master schedules to provide for common planning time. Schools have been progressive and creative in their own strategies to facilitating these opportunities per grade level or subject area teams. Schools who have implemented common planning time have explicitly identified this as a key strategic action to improved instructional effectiveness and increased school achievement. The need for all schools to implement this initiative is reflected within the DIAP, as schools seek ways to reduce the barrier of limited opportunity for common planning.

Specifically at Peace River Elementary School, the school identified for targeted assistance during SY2017-18, time has been built into the master schedule for grade level collaborative planning on a 7 day rotation. Teams have one hour and 40 minutes every 7 days (in addition to regular 30 minutes before school and 40 minutes during specials) to plan, review progress monitoring data, discuss student work, conduct instructional rounds, evaluate effectiveness of interventions and action plans, etc. Core team members are assigned to facilitate a particular grade level's collaborative planning time. Sign-in, agenda and minutes are collected after each collaborative planning period. Each core team member is responsible for supporting a particular grade level which includes managing the MTSS case load for that grade, monitoring implementation of curriculum initiatives, facilitating collaborative planning and mentoring students in the L25.

2. Instructional Coaches

Describe how the district provides Focus and Priority schools with a reading coach, mathematics coach and science coach to model effective lessons, lead lesson study, analyze data and provide professional development on Florida's standards. Include how the district monitors the daily activities of the coaches and their impact on instruction.

Each of the LEA's Title I schools has an on-site academic/reading coach that is titled Lead Teacher (elementary) or Instructional Coach (secondary). This is a teacher on assignment position, and the adopted Job Description notes the following performance responsibilities:

1. Provides collegial and technical support to teachers and peer coaches.
2. Serves as the official coaching liaison between school and district.
3. Serves as "lead learner" to teachers (Professional Learning Community).
4. Provides and coordinates professional development for all teachers.
5. Takes responsibility for site NET and Coaching, Assisting & Supporting Teachers (CAST) programs including the review of NET (New Educator Training) portfolios with the peer coach and NET teachers.
6. Facilitates the use of data for increased student achievement.
7. Involved with the implementation and monitoring of the School's Student Success (SIP) Plan.
8. Attends PPC meetings.
9. Takes an active role in the development and implementation of the school SIP.
10. Serves as professional development contact for school.
11. Coordinates the needed resources for coaching and professional development.
12. Models effective instruction.
13. Conducts evaluations of the effects of peer coaching and CAST programs.

The district's Curriculum and Instruction Specialists (C&Is) within the Division of Learning are highly trained coaches and PD facilitators in their areas of expertise: ELA/Reading/Writing, Math, Science, Social Studies, and Arts/PE. They work with district and school leaders to facilitate coaching activities in their content areas for all schools and centers. The C&Is maintain calendar documentation of their work in various schools, which is shared with the both the Executive Director of Learning and Director of Elementary, along with the Director of Exceptional Student Education, the Director of Professional Development, and the Coordinator of State & Federal Programs.

Through Title I and School Improvement funds, all schools are being provided with funds for substitutes to facilitate 'instructional rounds'. This process provides the opportunity for teachers to visit other teachers' classrooms during the instructional day to observe high quality instruction of standards or pedagogy in which they need assistance. Instructional rounds provide the opportunity to discuss what was observed with the teacher, and subsequently return to their own classrooms to implement their new learning, with follow-up conversation afterwards. Instructional rounds are monitored by school leaders, who conduct follow up conversations with the participating teachers to evaluate the experience for the participants. School leaders will be looking for improved professional practice of the visiting teachers during walk-through data collections and evaluations based on the instructional rounds experiences. School leaders have consistently prioritized instructional rounds as an effective school and district-level initiative through SIPs, the DIAP, and Title program needs assessments.

2. Instructional Alignment and Pacinga. Program Monitoring

Describe the process through which the district monitors whether core instructional and intervention programs are implemented as intended, how alignment with Florida's standards is maintained and whether they are effective. Include the data used to determine fidelity and effectiveness. Provide exemplars of how the district has responded to evidence of poor implementation and evidence that a given strategy is failing to reduce barriers to goals.

CCPS monitors whether core instructional and intervention programs are implemented with fidelity, as intended for effectiveness, and in alignment with Florida's standards through: school-level progress monitoring data; school Data Days scheduled to dig deeply into progress monitoring domains, skill level, and standards mastery; data analysis reports provided by the district's Psychometrician; school site visits including classroom walk-throughs by school and district leaders; reviewing curriculum maps and pacing guides located on the Division of Learning webpage; professional evaluation data of teachers and school leaders; meetings between schools and the district to discuss the data and SIP strategies being implemented; and SIP review at the school level, including by grade level and content teams. It is truly through CCPS' continuous school improvement model driven by school level analysis and initiatives that provide for monitoring of implementation and effectiveness.

In August of 2017, an end-of-year reflection was done to analyze student achievement data in evaluating student outcomes and the effectiveness of school improvement plan initiatives. Schools identified areas where student learning gains and achievement had improved through progress monitoring measures, and noted the barriers they believed had been reduced. Per collaborative reflection documents, schools reported that overall instructional effectiveness had improved due to strategic actions focused on developing teachers' understanding and instructional delivery of the Florida standards. This is due, in part, to curriculum maps that were created in SY2016-16 and revised and edited in SY2016-17 and are used in all subject areas by all teachers; these maps now house vetted lessons with the rigor and relevance reflected in Florida Standards, resources for teachers including suggested Thinking Maps and cooperative learning activities, labs, real-world scenarios, and extension activities.

The improvement in this area, as noted by the schools, is reflected in the identification of barriers for school year 2017-2018. Though the same three barriers from 2015-2016 continue to be addressed, there is another shift in priority. Now that teachers are increasingly more knowledgeable and experienced with the standards, schools are focusing on aligning the curriculum to the standards and increasing the rigor of lessons and content within teacher lessons. There is additional concentration on the needs of individual learners through differentiated instructional techniques and student engagement approaches. The opportunity to provide common planning is being continued as a barrier to overcome since not all schools have been successful in providing a common planning, and every effort is being made for collaborative planning at both the school level and district-wide, so this too has been added as a strategy.

A key event in the process is the School and District Improvement Plans and District Strategic Plan Mid-Year Review that will be completed in February of 2018. The mid-year review is held after schools complete their Data Days to analyze progress monitoring data for student learning gains and other student performance indicators, as well as evaluate the implementation and impact of school-based strategic actions. The power of the review is the depth of the discussions that thrive among educators, describing how barriers are manifested in individual schools, the trends among schools and at different levels, and the strategic actions that promote positive change. The key strategic actions identified across schools and grade levels as having the most impact for instructional effectiveness were:

- Data Days
- Articulation – within and among schools
- Common Planning
- Thinking Maps

These strategic actions are ongoing as part of CCPS' continuous improvement model. This cyclical process is continued throughout the school year as district and school level administrators gather, review, and analyze student achievement data and determine the progress toward eliminating identified barriers.

b. Supports for Student Transitions

Describe the structures the district has in place to support students in Focus and Priority schools as they transition from one school to another.

1. Will the district use its Student Progression Plan to satisfy this question?

No

a. Link to Student Progression Plan

b. Provide the page numbers of the plan that address this question.

The students attending schools in need of targeted and comprehensive support will be supported as they transition from 5th grade to 6th grade in the middle school through vertical articulation procedures. The students are taken for a tour of the middle school, and meet school leaders and 6th grade teachers. Middle school students serve as tour guides and are proud to show off their school and answer the incoming students' questions. Guidance counselors speak with them about the classes that they will be taking and what their expectations are for classwork and homework. Middle school students have even provided entertainment in the form of a fashion show, to give the rising students a sense of appropriate clothing that meets dress code, or may do a skit that portrays appropriate behaviors, and some that may not be acceptable. These activities serve younger students in acquiring a sense of culture of the school.

Parents of the incoming 6th graders have the opportunity to meet the middle school principal when he or she attends the elementary SAC meeting in April or May. They can ask questions about academic or social concerns, especially if it is their oldest child that is moving up to 6th grade. Additionally, the Title I Resource and Family Engagement Liaison leads a parent workshop on "Transitioning Your Student to Middle School" that is conducted in both the spring of the students' 5th grade year and fall of their 6th grade year. Additional middle school transition oriented workshops include Social Media, and Understanding the FSA.

Middle school teachers receive the previous performance data on their incoming students and may use it to determine instructional priorities. Teachers receive both state assessment scores and progress monitoring data with performance breakdowns per domain and standard.

For ESE/504 and ELL students, school ESE liaisons and ELL contacts at the elementary school transfer student files to the middle schools and meet with their colleagues to discuss specific student strengths and challenges as part of their academic and social articulation.

The MTSS process is expanding in serving students at all tiers for receiving interventions. Teachers can access the intervention information through EDIS School Portal, an online data program that blends student academic information with behavioral and performance indicators as a comprehensive early warning system.

The following documents were submitted as evidence for this section:

No files were uploaded

2. Problem Identification Summary

This section is not required by the Florida Department of Education, but is provided as an opportunity for the district to summarize the points of strength and areas of need that have been identified in the data.

CCPS is moving in the right direction with an 8 position upward move in rank and a 2% growth overall, but the areas of greatest need shows in student learning gains, especially in the lowest 25% of students. Math achievement in grades 7 and 8 and ELA achievement in grade 7 are also areas in need of improvement as the only subcategories to fall below the state average. In addition, there is a noticeable achievement gap between ESE students and non-ESE students as demonstrated on FSA testing. Areas of success for the 16-17 school year are in 8th grade Science, and overall Math and ELA achievement with an increase of 4%, 2% and 3% respectively and in the maintenance of a 75% proficiency rate in Social Studies.

B. Problem Analysis Summary

This section is not required by the Florida Department of Education, but is provided as an opportunity for the district to summarize the underlying root causes for the areas of need identified in the data, as determined by situational awareness of, and research conducted by, the stakeholders involved in the needs assessment.

In continued analysis of the school improvement plans, which are driven by school level data days and district data days, our county has identified student engagement, motivation and critical thinking skills as a major barrier to learning gains for all students. It is the reduction of this barrier that will lead to increased student achievement and learning gains for all students, especially ESE and L25%, that will propel our district to #1 in the state.

District Improvement Goals

The following key is intended to help readers understand how the sections of this document correspond to the steps of the 8-step planning and problem-solving framework used in the School Improvement Plan. G1.B10 Opportunities to provide for common planning 2

B220629

G1.B10.S1 School-based administrative and instructional leadership will strive to create opportunities for common planning for grade level and/or subject area teachers through adjusted master schedules, flexible scheduling, focused duty assignments, and similar collaborative approaches. Efforts are supported through inservice/training on scheduling, and mentoring from schools utilizing common planning. 4

S232942

Strategy Rationale

Schools that have been able to implement common planning, whether daily or weekly, have identified this strategy as having high impact on shared instructional effectiveness. This strategy is supported by the effectiveness of Data Day which support grade level/content area common time and planning, thus this opportunity is desired regularly. Common planning facilitates teacher collaboration on delivering instruction aligned with the rigor of the Florida standards, and on providing differentiated instruction to students.
