2. Supports for School Improvement

a. Alignment of Resources

Describe the process through which the district identifies and aligns all district resources (e.g., personnel, instructional, curricular, policy) in order to meet the needs of all students and maximize desired student outcomes. Include the methodology for coordinating and supplementing federal, state and local funds, services and programs to align to interventions in Priority and Focus schools. Provide the person(s) responsible, frequency of meetings, how an inventory of resources is maintained and any problem-solving activities used to determine how to apply resources for the highest impact.

The process is to provide forums (groups of stakeholders using mechanisms that evaluate needs) that ensure there is open communication at all times between different departments through regular meetings with all stakeholder groups to review funding sources and data, including funding from state, federal and local sources, district mission/vision/goals, and the goals/deliverables of all state and federally funded projects to prioritize dollars to the needs of students in the district. These forums, include but are not limited to:

- Budget Meetings
- Staffing Meetings with individual school leaders
- Executive Management Meetings
- Instructional Leadership Meetings
- District Leadership Meetings
- Education Transformation Operations (ETO) Meetings

- Interdepartmental Meetings
- Federal Program Collaboration Meetings
- Assessment/Data Review Meetings

Include the methodology for coordinating and supplementing federal, state and local funds, services and programs to align to interventions in Priority and Focus schools.

After analysis of needs assessment data, the methodology used is the integration of all district activities with financially informed project strategies to provide clarity and blend important metrics such as start-up costs, time needed, funding status, stakeholders involved, strategies, products, implementation of strategies, and identifying schedules for timely delivery of financially feasible projects designed to raise student proficiency and develop college and career ready graduates.

Provide the person(s) responsible:

- Deputy Superintendent
- Assistant Superintendent of Business and Finance
- K-12 Supervisor
- Director Human Resources/Staff Development
- Director ESE Services
- Director MIS-IT Technology
- Director Federal Programs
- Coordinator Parent Services
- Coordinator Early Learning
- Coordinator of Assessment
- District Reading Specialists
- District Math Specialist
- District Science Specialist

- Other district staff

Frequency of meetings: Monthly, or sooner as needed.

How inventories of resources are maintained:

- Capitalized resources (over $750 per single item and useful life of over 1 year) are documented and lists maintained by district inventory specialist.
- Annual reviews of capitalized inventory are conducted with department heads and site leaders verifying location and/or transfer of property.
- Non-capitalized resources (under $750 per single item and useful life of less than 1 year) that are consumable are not documented, except through review of purchase orders
- Non-capitalized resources (under $750 per single item and useful life of more than 1 year) purchased through federal funding and are not consumable are kept track of through inventory records in federal programs office and shipment records to sites.
- Inventories of textbook resources are kept by the K-12 Office and are tracked through transfer forms and purchase orders; collection of older texts are also tracked and submitted for return to companies and/or disposal.
- Inventories of smaller digital devices purchased with local funding are kept with MIS department and regular review and recall of items is done to update and re-inventory equipment.
- Records of employee assets and their credentials are kept in the district Personnel Office.

Any problem-solving activities used to determine how to apply resources for the highest impact:

- Funding, staffing, and instructional decisions are all driven by data analyses to ensure that the resources are prioritized based on student needs

- Schools identified as focus and priority by the Florida Department of Education are provided extra resources specifically targeted to achievement gaps and student accommodations to close gaps and raise student achievement. A district-led ETO team provide ongoing daily, weekly, and monthly services for progress monitoring, teacher modeling, and other technical assistance to these schools.
- All school staffs are provided ongoing professional development to build teacher quality, ensure highly qualified teaching staff, and to enhance their personal development for retention and sustainability of reform efforts.

b. School Allocation Process

Describe the way in which the district allocates resources to schools. Include the person(s) responsible for this process, frequency of data review and decision making, and processes used to differentiate and monitor resource supports.

- Staffing resources are allocated based on state and federal dollars generated by student enrollment.
- Federal program resources are allocated on a per student basis based on funding generated for supplemental activities.
- Internal budgets of local and other state dollars are allocated based on student enrollment and/or weighted services necessary to accommodate student needs.
- District operational resources are allocated based on Superintendent and School Board priorities as they implement state and local mandates, legislation, and/or policies.

Include the person(s) responsible for this process:

- Deputy Superintendent
- Assistant Superintendent of Business and Finance
- K-12 Supervisor
- Director Human Resources/Staff Development
- Director ESE Services
- Director MIS-IT Technology
- Director Federal Programs
- Coordinator Parent Services
- Coordinator Early Learning
- Coordinator of Assessment
- District Reading Specialists
- District Math Specialist
- District Science Specialist
- Principal Consultant
- Other district staff

Frequency of data review and decision making: Daily, weekly, and/or monthly as needed to address student needs and district requirements by state, local, and federal agencies.

Processes used to differentiate and monitor resource supports:

- Regular ongoing review of all funding sources and funding available for instruction and operation of district activities
- Consolidation of all grant and project goals and deliverables, including sources of baseline data and evidence sources, into one document for review by all instructional and district leaders to better align programs, reduce duplication of expenditures and services, and reduce program fragmentation.

c. Modifications to System Policies and Practices

Identify specific policies and practices the district shall seek to add, modify or remove in order to establish or strengthen systems that support school-based leadership teams to implement interventions. Provide the rationale for the proposed changes and the steps required to make the modifications, including person(s) responsible for implementation and follow-up.

The School Board of Gadsden County has reviewed, revised and/or adopted and approved the following policies as of June 25, 2013 to effectuate a system of support of all schools to implement and achieve school improvement initiatives:

2120 - SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT

The School Board supports the concept of school improvement as established by the State Board of Education and will seek to create and/or maintain effective schools as defined by Florida statute. The Board shall annually approve and require implementation of a school improvement plan for each school in the District and shall provide funds to schools for developing and implementing school improvement plans. In addition to adopting a mission statement and educational philosophy for the District, the Board shall create, as needed, policies which support the school improvement process. The Superintendent shall establish administrative procedures which will provide for:

- A. School improvement plans which are developed and implemented by school-based teams, working collaboratively, so that both building level and District level goals for students can be identified and correlated, and then achieved through effective planning, problem-solving, and assessment.
 - B. A District-wide, school-improvement plan which provides for building-level decision-making regarding program assessment, curriculum review, determination of performance standards, budgetary review, staff development, and the monitoring and assessment of student outcomes.
 - C. Collaboration at both the building and District levels with parents, relevant institutions and groups, especially those in the community, who can support and facilitate school improvement in the District.
 - D. A system of school reports and dissemination of information regarding the performance of students and educational programs as required by Florida statute and State Board of Education rule.
- In order to enhance school improvement, the Superintendent is authorized to waive any policy that has been enacted in order to comply with the following Federal statutes/regulations and to request waivers from these laws/regulations from the Superintendent of Public Instruction:

Titles I, II, IV, VI, and Part C of Title VII of the ESEA Act of 1965

The Carl Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Act

The General Education Provisions Act

Parts of Education Department General Administrative Regulations

In requesting such waivers, the Superintendent is to abide by the procedures established by the State Department of Education.

2700 - ACADEMICALLY HIGH-PERFORMING SCHOOL DISTRICTS

The School Board believes that a goal of any public school system should be to enable each student to achieve to the best of his/her ability. That end, is best achieved through continuous development of the curriculum, the selection, development, and retention of high quality staff members, and the motivation of each individual student, instructional staff member, support staff member, and administrator in the District. Earning designation as an academically high-performing school district must not be viewed as an end unto itself, but rather as the standard for which the District strives each year. Florida statute provides school districts that demonstrate the ability to consistently maintain or improve their high-performing status with exemptions from many requirements set forth in statute and in the rules adopted by the State Board of Education to implement State law.

The District must meet the following criteria if it is to be exempt from requirements in Florida statutes and from the State Board of Education rules that implement those statutes:

- A. earn a grade of "A" for two (2) consecutive years;
- B. have no District-operated school that earns a grade of "F";
- C. comply with all class size requirements;
- D. have no material weakness or noncompliance in its annual financial audit.

An academically high-performing school district, while exempt from a number of statutes and rules that govern school districts, is not exempt from the following:

- A. statutes pertaining to services for students with disabilities; civil rights/discrimination; student health; safety and welfare; student assessment program and school grading system
- B. statutes pertaining to financial matters, except that a high-performing district may waive the required program expenditure levels for grades K-12 as specified in Florida Statute
- C. statutes pertaining to planning and budgeting, except that a high-performing district may waive the required comprehensive reading plan specified in Florida statute, because these districts are approved to receive the research-based reading instruction allocation without complying with those provisions of law
- D. statutes governing election or compensation or district school board members
- E. Florida statute relating to differentiated pay and performance pay policies
- F. statutes pertaining to educational facilities, except that a high-performing district may waive statutory provisions relating to covered walkways for portables and statutory provisions relating to relocatable facilities over twenty (20) years old
- G. statutes pertaining to instructional materials, except that a high-performing school district may waive the requirement to requisition State-adopted instructional materials from the depository of the publisher with whom a contract has been made, and a high-performing school district may also waive the requirement to use fifty percent (50%) or more of the annual instructional materials allocation on items to provide instruction at the level for which the items are designated

Upon earning the designation as an academically high-performing school district, the Superintendent shall submit an annual report to the State Board of Education and the Legislature on December 1st that delineates the performance of District students with regard to the subjects on the State-wide assessment program as required by State law. Academically high-performing school districts retain the designation for three (3) years and may renew the designation if the criteria to do so are met. The requirements for renewal are as follows:

- A. comply with all class size requirements;
- B. have no material weaknesses or noncompliance in its annual financial audit
- C. earns a grade "A" for two (2) years within the previous three (3) year period
- D. have no District-operated school that earns a grade of "F" in any year

If the District is designated as an academically high-performing school district but fails to meet the requirements for renewal, then the Superintendent must provide written notification to the State Board of Education that the District is no longer eligible to be so designated. If the District is designated as an academically high-performing school district and a district-operated school receives a grade of "F" at any time during the three (3) year period, the District loses the designation. If the District meets original eligibility requirements in the future, it can regain the designation. The Superintendent shall develop and update as needed administrative procedures to implement this policy.

2111 - PARENT AND FAMILY INVOLVEMENT IN THE SCHOOL PROGRAM

The School Board recognizes and values parents and families as student's first teachers and decision-makers in education. The Board believes that student learning is more likely to occur when there is an effective partnership between the school and the student's parents and family. Such a partnership between the home and school and greater involvement of parents in the education of their students generally result in higher academic achievement, improved student behavior, and reduced absenteeism. For purposes of this policy, the term "families" is used in order to include student's primary caregivers, who are not their biological parents, such as foster caregivers, grandparents, and other family members. In cultivating partnerships with families and communities, the Board is committed to the following:

- A. Relationships with Families

1. establishing school environments that are welcoming, supportive, and student-centered;
2. providing professional development for school staff that helps build partnerships between families and schools; 2,3
3. providing family activities that relate to various cultures, languages, practices, and customs, and bridge economic and cultural barriers; 2,3
4. providing coordination, technical support and other support to assist schools in planning and implementing family involvement activities. 3

B. Effective Communication

1. providing information to families to support the proper health, safety, and well-being of their students;
2. providing information to families about school policies, procedures, programs, and activities; 2,3
3. promoting regular and open communication between school personnel and students' family members;
4. communicating with families in a format and language that is understandable, to the extent practicable; 2,3
5. providing information that will enable families to encourage and support their students' academic progress, especially in the area of reading; 1
6. providing information that will enable families to encourage and support their students' citizenship, especially social skills and respect for others; 1
7. providing information that will enable families to encourage and support their students' realization of high expectations and setting life-long learning goals; 1
8. providing information and involving families in monitoring student progress; 3
9. providing families with timely and meaningful information regarding Florida's Sunshine State Standards, State and local assessments, and pertinent legal provisions; 2,3
- 10 preparing families to be involved in meaningful discussions and meetings with school staff. 2,3

C Volunteer Opportunities

1. providing volunteer opportunities for families to support their students' school activities;
2. supporting other needs, such as transportation and student care, to enable families to participate in school-sponsored family involvement events. 3

D. Learning at Home

1. offering training and resources to help families learn strategies and skills to support at-home learning and success in school; 1,2,3
2. working with families to establish learning goals and help their students accomplish these goals;
3. helping families to provide a school and home environment that encourages learning and extends learning at home.

E. Involving Families in Decision Making and Advocacy

1. Involving families as partners in the process of school review and continuous improvement planning involving families in the development of its District-wide parent involvement policy and plan, and distributing the policy and plan to families. 2,3

F. Collaborating with the Community

1. building constructive partnerships and connecting families with community-based programs and other community resources; 2,3
2. coordinating and integrating family involvement programs and activities with District initiatives and community-based programs that encourage and support families' participation in their students' education, growth, and development. 2,3

Implementation

The Superintendent will provide a comprehensive plan to engage parents, families, and community members in a partnership that supports each student's academic achievement, the District's continuous improvement, and individual school improvement plans. The plan will provide for annual evaluation, with the involvement of parents and families, of the plan's effectiveness and identification of barriers to participation by parents and families. Evaluation findings will be used in the annual review of the Parent and Family Involvement policy and to improve the effectiveness of the District plan. Pursuant to State law, the Superintendent shall develop and annually disseminate a parent guide to successful student achievement, consistent with the guidelines of FLDOE, which address what parents need to know about the educational progress of their students and how parents can help their students achieve in school.

d. Operational Flexibility

Provide the district's definition of "operational flexibility" provided to schools implementing a District-Managed Turnaround option under section 1008.33, Florida Statutes, or a Turnaround, Transformation or Restart with EMO model under the SIG 1003(g) program as it applies to school-level autonomy over staffing, scheduling and budgeting.

Gadsden County places responsibility for designing a district turnaround plan in the hands of the Education Transformation Operations (ETO) Office in collaboration with principals of lower performing school. The responsibility of implementing a school-level turnaround plan is a collaborative effort between the ETO and the school's principal and teaching staff. Principals in turnaround schools are given the authority to implement a reform plan that is specific to the needs of the school and its students. The principal is given the flexibility to hire staff and develop a team of teachers who are committed to positively impacting school improvement. No teacher will be placed at the school that has not met with the approval of the turnaround principal and other committed staff members who form the school leadership team. The principal will determine if a staff member is not supportive of his/her reform plan to implement turnaround strategies. Staff members who are not supportive of the reform plan will be removed from the school at the principal's request. While the district leadership team, with school leader input, selects district-wide initiatives to be applied to every school, the principals at turnaround schools are given additional flexibility in determining what specific supplemental interventions they feel are necessary to move their students ahead academically. Turnaround principals have flexibility from several district rules on instruction, school schedule, student groupings, and other instructional strategies. In most cases, principals focus first on changing school culture to build both teacher and student expectations.

3. Sustainability of Improvement

a. Describe how the district will sustain improvements that are a result of the interventions described in Part III of this plan after the schools' Differentiated Accountability designation of Focus or Priority is removed. Include any plans to reorganize personnel, redistribute resources or reach out to community organizations, unions and other partners to build capacity for and sustainability of improvements.

School Reform Sustainability Plan for Turnaround Schools

Sustainability is the ability of a program to maintain its core beliefs and values and use them to guide program adaptations to changes and pressures over time. Sustaining school improvement over a long period of time is more than just keeping up new practices past the implementation year. Initial maintenance is only the first step of a much longer journey. The primary method of sustainability is for school leaders and staff members to learn how to intentionally nourish and prolong improvement initiatives by extending and adapting them over time. Prolonged, continuous improvement requires continually asking and acting on the answers to several key questions: How can we do even better tomorrow? What's working and what's not? What do we need to change next? Too many school improvement efforts wither and die after a year or two of hard work, usually after the first flush of success. At the same time, research shows that sustaining reforms beyond a few years can create big payoffs for students. One large-scale study of student achievement in schools implementing comprehensive school reform models found that after the fifth year of implementation, reform effects began to increase substantially.

Three Core Educational Activities to Sustain School Improvement

Sustaining improvement is a long-term process that involves the following three kinds of overlapping activities:

- Maintaining the improvement effort beyond initial implementation.
- Extending the improvement effort after its initial success.
- Adapting the improvement effort so that it survives and thrives over the long term.

Maintaining Improvement Initiatives Beyond the Implementation Year

Maintaining new practices beyond the first year of implementation requires more than simple persistence. Many kinds of unforeseen obstacles can arise the following year or the year after. There is no formula for predicting the factors that will threaten an improvement effort two or three years into implementation. Schools are complex organizations, and changing major practices in one part of the school can have unforeseeable effects on other parts of the school. Therefore, maintaining an improvement effort requires keeping a sharp eye on how the change process is affecting staff members and students; keeping a constant lookout for warning signs of obstacles that might threaten the effort; and keeping a very open mind to how challenges can arise from even the most unlikely places. Many factors contribute to the fragmentation and frustration of the staff. However, one of the greatest challenges stems from the success of the reform effort itself. Fundamentally, the whole school needs to change for school reform to succeed.

Extending the Improvement Effort to Capitalize on Early Success

One of the most common and damaging mistakes school leaders make following implementation is to declare victory too early. School reform leaders of successful efforts need to use the credibility afforded by short-term wins to tackle even bigger problems. They should go after systems and structures that are not consistent with the transformation vision and have not been confronted before. Sustaining success over the long term requires a fierce and very intentional kind of opportunism. Research on organizational change has confirmed again and again that the schools most successful at sustaining improvement over long periods of time learn to enact new improvements even as they work to maintain practices that are already working. Reform leaders have to institutionalize the question – how can we do better tomorrow than we did today - as way of life, a habit of mind and action. There is no ultimate finish line in a highly visionary school. There is no point where the reform team can afford to feel they can coast the rest of the way, living off the fruits of their labor. Schools that sustain improvement make deeper and more consistent changes. They continue to push beyond a comfortable level and don't become complacent. They intensify the use of strategies that fueled initial success and extend changes in curriculum and instruction into all grades. Successful school reforms continue to move forward or critical momentum will be lost and regression may follow. It's important to celebrate early success, but schools that successfully sustain reforms do not allow the first flush of success to turn into complacency.

Adapting Improvement Initiatives Over Time

In the long run, maintaining and extending improvement initiatives is not enough. Expectations change, policies change, local and state political environments change, students change, school leaders change, and faculties change. Even the most successful improvement initiatives must eventually “evolve or die.” One very important constant is to have a clear school vision comprised of a well-defined mission and set of core values that seldom, if ever, change. To sustain growth over long periods of time, school leaders must cling fiercely to their core visions while considering everything else—practices, structures, job definitions, schedules—up for grabs. Programs that are sustainable move beyond maintenance and develop the ability to evolve. This evolutionary process has two stages. The first stage is a kind of selective adaptation in which schools constantly try new things, keeping those that work while throwing away those that don't. The second stage is the fine-tuning of individual reform elements to ensure that they keep working as the environment around them changes. Sometimes the best moves are made by experimentation, trial and error, and by accident. A school cannot simply flail around blindly, trying anything that sounds remotely interesting. Instead, the things they try should be smart in two important ways. They should be strongly influenced by and aligned with the school's and the school district's mission and core values. They should also be guided by evidence about what has worked elsewhere and what research has proven to be effective. Many schools are littered with layer upon layer of past reforms and interventions that no longer produce results, if they ever did at all. On the other hand, highly successful schools should be unsentimental about jettisoning programs that don't work even if students, parents, or teachers like them a lot. Sometimes educators decide that a particular program or practice is worth keeping, but only if it can be adapted so that it aligns with current needs and can continue to deliver results in a changing environment. Successful schools pull apart the curriculum and reconstruct it so that it is better aligned with state standards and provides a seamless integration of core knowledge, rigor, relevance, critical thinking, and the state standards that will lead to student success.

Other Sustainability Efforts for School Reform Over Time

Sustainability of successful school reform also rotates around involvement of other key stakeholders outside the school environment. The district's turnaround office will develop long-term plans for the district as a whole to create, maintain, and sustain high academic performance on all school campuses in the district. District leadership will develop staffing plans that include placement of highly qualified and successful school leaders into the schools with the most need to improve academically. Flexibility and staffing will also follow the identified principal to begin the school reform effort. Authority, responsibility, and incentives will be provided to highly effective school reform teams as they take on new school improvement challenges and implement successful and sustainable programs. The Community Assessment Team (CAT) will review school improvement efforts and provide community and business input. The CAT team will serve as the catalyst to identify and solicit resources from business partners and other city and county agencies that would benefit most from highly skilled graduates. The bargaining unit will be asked to consider school reform efforts in their instructional and non-instructional school employee meetings and work collaboratively with the district to negotiate ways that the teachers can be rewarded for high performance as well as accepting of more responsibility and taking ownership for excellence in teaching and student achievement outcomes.

B. Stakeholder Involvement

1. Parental Involvement Plan (PIP) Link

<https://www.floridacims.org/documents/361883>

2. Family and Community Engagement

Describe the district's ongoing mechanisms for engaging families and the community in school improvement efforts.

- The District Parent Resource Center will continue to be supported through Title I, IDEA, and General Revenue. Title I Schools' Parent Resource Rooms will be inventoried and will continue to be placed at the school sites where parents have ready access to basic information about their school and their students' academic options.
- The District Parent Resource Center will continue to serve as a clearinghouse for disseminating information to all parents and expanding community involvement activities.
- Parent support is provided for each Title I school in developing and marketing specialized curricular emphasis based on the school's staff and program expertise.
- Further support is provided to all schools by assigning school resource persons from each district department to each school to be their liaison for issues and requests to help them support their students and parents. Types of Parent Involvement include, but are not limited to: Parenting Activities designed to help families understand young adolescent development, acquire developmentally appropriate parenting skills, set home conditions to support learning at each grade level, and help schools obtain information about students.

- Communicating Activities focusing on keeping parents informed through such things as electronic communication, mail and other public notices, memos, report cards, conferences about student work, and school functions.
- Volunteering Activities to incorporate strategies designed to improve volunteer recruiting, training, and scheduling. - This will be done with Vista Volunteers serving as parent liaisons, as funding permits.
- Learning-at-home Activities to allow for coordination of school work with work at home (e.g., goal setting, interactive homework).
- Decision-making Activities designed to solicit the voice of parents in decisions about school policies and practices.
- Collaborating with community activities acknowledging and bringing together all community entities (e.g., with the community, business/industry, and faith-based organizations) with a vested interest in the education of young adolescents and parents as equal partners in their child's education - such as Vista providing volunteers for parent liaisons. Child care will be provided for parents as necessary through school volunteers, Vista parent liaisons at workshops, and through community sponsors as available. Parent Resource Coordinator will present at parent workshops about strategies especially designed to enhance parent engagement. Skylert will be a primary tool used for electronic communication and parent awareness of upcoming activities.

3. Engagement of School Leadership

Describe how the district involves school leadership in the development and implementation of turnaround plans and other school-level interventions.

The school-level turnaround plans and supplemental activities are developed by school stakeholders in collaboration with district leaders, the ETO specialists, and the services of an external principal consultant. The process starts with an external evaluation of the school improvement plans from the previous year to see if strategies were implemented and led to desired outcomes. Review of the evaluation data with school-level staff and SAC committee stakeholders, encourages discussion of barriers, development of new or revised strategies/goals, and begins to focus school stakeholders on the student needs identified by the results of the state assessment and review of other annual survey data collected by the school and district and submitted to FDOE. Peer review teams, led by an external consultant review school improvement plans to provide peers with promising practices sharing and other ideas to close achievement gaps. Plans are reviewed for alignment with the district curricula and the Florida Standards. Resources are identified to meet strategic outcomes, with a focus on existing resources and any free resources available. ETO staff collect repositories of free and/or district developed resources and makes them available to assist all schools in implementing research-based strategies. CPalms and Florida Standards web site links are used to supplement all reading, science, and math instruction and direct development of district resources for schools. Federal funding provides principal consultancy for school leaders on a quarterly basis, with a focus on new or struggling leaders on a monthly basis. District textbook options are presented to a committee of teacher stakeholders and school leaders as textbook adoption cycles dictate to determine which textbook they would like to use as the basal instrument for each content area. District leaders are brought together to review vendor options of supplemental materials available to support their assessed content areas. School leaders are allowed to choose other interventions to support other content areas or focus on enrichment based on their available federal dollars. The district, in conjunction with school level staff, has seriously reviewed the level and amount of different reading interventions available at the schools and has implemented a strategy of core plus one to bring a sharper focus on the use of the intervention materials and the professional development necessary to implement the interventions with fidelity.

3. Educator Quality

a. School Leadership Teams

Describe the process and criteria by which the district determines and ensures each Focus and Priority school has a school leadership team of high quality, including a principal and assistant principal with a record of increasing student achievement in a setting with similar challenges. Include how the district determines whether to retain or replace members of the leadership team.

Gadsden County's turnaround department understands that true educational transformation ensues when a strong instructional leader dedicated to progressive change assumes the rein of the organization and/or school. Consequently, a meticulous process is implemented to staff its most fragile learning communities with highly qualified administrator. The district's leadership team, in consultation with the Florida Department of Education (FDOE) Differential Accountability (DA) office, reviews the school improvement status, student achievement, and success of school leaders selected for appointment to focus and priority schools. Specific factors considered, but are not limited to:

- The school grade declines or there is consistent failure (D or F) under the same leadership for 2 years - strong consideration is given to appointing a new leader and/or members of the leadership team.
- The school grade declines under the same leadership for 1 year and the overall achievement gap performance indicators - Leadership will be reviewed and data will be analyzed to determine the most likely causes of the decline. If the decline can be directly linked to school leaders, they will be considered for replacement.
- The school grade declines under the same leadership for 1 year but the learning gains in reading and mathematics increase - school leaders will be left in place and provided further opportunities to raise school grade and student achievement.
- The school grade declines under the same leadership for 1 year and the overall achievement gap performance indicators increases - school leaders will be left in place and provided further opportunities to raise school grade and student achievement.
- The school grade declines under the same leadership for 1 year and the learning gains in reading and mathematics declines - consideration will be given to replacing school leader(s).

In the event that qualified personnel with proven records of success in improving schools in need of improvement are not found within the established district staff to transfer to focus or priority schools, a search will begin to recruit school leadership with a success record of turning around low performing schools. The search will begin on a regional basis and then expand to inter-district and/or inter-state.

Recruitment fairs will be held encouraging applications from proven school leaders. The district will improve opportunities for career and professional growth of school leaders.

b. Instructional Staff

Describe the process by which the district determines whether to retain or replace members of the teaching staff in Focus and Priority schools whose data shows they have not contributed to improved student outcomes.

Gadsden County's ETO team works closely with the site-based leadership teams, Human Resources to ensure high quality teachers are recruited for vacancies at Priority and Focus schools. The leadership teams utilize multiple data points when assessing teacher effectiveness. The following are the major factors considered when determining appointments:

- Instructor and instructional specialists performance are reviewed by content area including the percentage of students making learning gains in reading and/or mathematics averaged over the three most recent years and the number of years the teacher has been teaching at the current school;
- Percentage of instructors that have been or will need to be replaced at a school to impact school reform;
- Percentage of instructional paraprofessionals that have been or will need to be replaced at a school to impact school reform;
- Percentage of administrative staff that have been or will need to be replaced, including:
Assistant principals
Instructional specialists
Guidance Counselors

Recruitment: The district's policies regarding recruitment of new teachers and coaches are flexible enough to meet bargaining unit requirements and the needs of the focus and priority schools.

Retention: Reading and mathematics teachers and instructional specialists will not be retained at the focus and priority schools unless they are highly qualified and highly effective, defined as 65% of their students achieving learning gains on average over a three year period. For special situations where teachers and coaches have demonstrated significant student achievement increases in the most recent school year, the individual will be considered for reassignment at the school through the demonstration of data. For teachers and instructional specialists within their first or second year of teaching, learning gains will be calculated according to the number of years taught. For teachers other than those of reading and mathematics, retention will be based on increased student achievement.

Teacher and coach evaluations to determine placement and/or retention at focus and priority schools will include analysis of school, subject, and classroom data from district assessments and state assessments. The district will work with the bargaining unit to implement recruitment and retention processes and ensure equitable placement of high quality teachers and staff at focus and priority schools. Criteria for teachers and instructional specialists to be retained will be that at least 65% of their students have achieved learning gains on average over a three-year period. Criteria for new teachers and instructional specialists' learning gains will be calculated according to the number of years they have taught reading and/or math based on increased student achievement. Teacher and principal evaluations have been developed and approved by FDOE and the bargaining unit.

School leaders who fail to improve student achievement or school level achievement will be replaced (teachers will be given ample opportunities to improve professional practices before replacement – the LEA - will follow requirements of Senate Bill 736- and principals will be given a 2-year period to raise school achievement). After evaluations, teachers that have raised student achievement and learning gains of their students at least 65% will be given incentive pay as a reward for performance.

D. Professional Capacity

1. Common Planning Time

Describe how the district ensures appropriate resources are allocated to ensure the master schedule at Focus and Priority schools allows for common planning time, as defined in Rule 6A-1.099811(2)(e), F.A.C.

6A-1.099811(2)(e) FAC: "Common planning time" means the time provided to grade-level teachers at the elementary level and subject-area teachers at the secondary level to meet together, within and across grades and subjects, for data-based decision making, problem-solving, lesson study, and professional development on Florida's standards.

Focus and Priority schools have been prioritized and provided with district level ETO technical assistance and progress monitoring. Content area specialists are assigned to each focus and priority school and provide ongoing daily, weekly, and monthly technical assistance. They provide facilitated common planning time as defined by FAC 6A-1.099811(2)(e). Grade level and subject-area teachers are provided release time during the day to meet with ETO specialists and facilitate common planning that is driven by data and the Florida Standards. The district facilitates the payment of substitutes and/or plans for other educational activities for the teachers' classes during this time. This planning time is in addition to their individual bargained planning time. Above and beyond that, there are weekly faculty meetings (at some focus schools these meetings are held twice a week) to discuss strategies across grade levels and subject areas based on data, intervention implementation, and summary reports from ETO specialists.

2. Instructional Coaches

Describe how the district provides Focus and Priority schools with a reading coach, mathematics coach and science coach to model effective lessons, lead lesson study, analyze data and provide professional development on Florida's standards. Include how the district monitors the daily activities of the coaches and their impact on instruction.

Since school reform is an ongoing priority in Gadsden County. The focus and priority schools will be provided with technical assistance, either through the district Education Transformation Operations (ETO) office and/or through site-based coaches to provide mentoring and peer level assistance to strengthen opportunities for school leaders to better implement school reform strategies. Monthly meetings with school leaders coaches will provide assistance with data analysis and its use in informing and driving instruction. Focus and priority schools will participate in common planning activities, facilitate Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) with the development and implementation of lesson study; teach teachers how to unravel the new Florida standards and infuse the standards into instruction. School leaders will be expected to model how to scaffold instruction; work with teachers to analyze and use data to determine the need for differentiated instruction; and recommend individualized strategies to improve student achievement and teacher effectiveness based on data. Common planning time will allow teachers to engage in knowledge sharing and grow as a collegial network of professionals. In addition, a district level reading specialist and the ETO specialists in reading, science, and math will provide direction and modeling at the school for the school leaders and instructional specialists/coaches, emphasizing data analysis, early learning and incorporation of the new standards into instruction based on data decision-making.

Description Acaletics is a fun, quick supplemental mathematics program that promotes computational fluency by providing daily practice through use of a high volume of stimuli--all varying in terms of format and complexity levels.

d. Science1. Description of Programs

List and describe the core, supplemental and intensive intervention programs for science the district currently uses at the elementary, middle and high school levels:

Florida Interactive Science (Pearson)

Program Type Core

School Type Elementary School

Description Florida Interactive Science serves as the district's core program for grades K-5. This resource integrates technology, unique paper-based write-in student texts, and hands-on lab kits to foster student engagement and ignite inquiry.

Pearson

Program Type Core

School Type Middle School, High School

Description A variety of texts published by Pearson and/or Pearson/Prentice Hall are utilized in the secondary sector. Likened to the materials utilized in the elementary schools, a careful melding of technology, paper-based materials, and lab experiences provides the perfect platform for collaborative learning.

2. Instructional Alignment and Pacing

a. Program Monitoring

Describe the process through which the district monitors whether core instructional and intervention programs are implemented as intended, how alignment with Florida's standards is maintained and whether they are effective. Include the data used to determine fidelity and effectiveness. Provide exemplars of how the district has responded to evidence of poor implementation and evidence that a given strategy is failing to reduce barriers to goals.

The district monitors the implementation of the core and supplemental/intervention programs through use of a four-pronged cyclic process:

1. The common pacing plans have been developed through a collaborative effort that included both district and site-based content area specialists. All administrative and instructional personnel have on-going access to these guides through an instructional portal. In addition to having access, key stakeholders have been well trained on the purpose and effective implementation of the learning plans.
2. Representatives from the district office conduct daily site visits to ensure the plans are used effectively and students are responding favorably to the instruction. If students are not responding to the instruction and/or intervention, a data chat--comprised of the site leaders and district representative--will be conducted to determine the next instructional steps.
3. Interim assessments are used to evaluate the effectiveness of the plans/programs and to make adjustments as warranted. All appropriate parties will participate in data dialogue sessions following the administration of common interim assessments. This includes dialogue between district-to-administrators, administrators-to-teacher, teacher-to-student, and student-to-family. Such session will consist of an analysis of current status and goal setting for what comes next.
4. The district instructional leaders will continuously review, reflect upon, and revise the instructional plans based on data and reasonable expectations.

b. Supports for Student Transitions

Describe the structures the district has in place to support students in Focus and Priority schools as they transition from one school to another.

1. Will the district use its Student Progression Plan to satisfy this question?

No

a. Link to Student Progression Plan

b. Provide the page numbers of the plan that address this question.

The district implements several structures to support students as they transition from school to school whether due to attrition or natural maturation. As aforementioned, the district provides a centralized curriculum plan. This unified plan for each content area requires consistency and commonality among the schools. In addition, the district offers four professional growth days during which teachers from across the district assemble and engage in learning activities through scholarly discourse. Topics for discussion during these professional growth days include topics related to curriculum and instructional, best practices, and vertical articulation all of which support and impact student transitions.

c. Alignment of Pacing Guides to Florida Standards

Verify that the district's instructional pacing guides are aligned to Florida's standards for reading, writing, mathematics and science.

Yes
