School Board Approval

This plan is pending approval by the Broward County School Board.

SIP Authority

Section 1001.42(18), Florida Statutes, requires district school boards to annually approve and require implementation of a Schoolwide Improvement Plan (SIP) for each school in the district that has a school grade of D or F. This plan is also a requirement for Targeted Support and Improvement (TS&I) and Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CS&I) schools pursuant to 1008.33 F.S. and the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA).

To be designated as TS&I, a school must have one or more ESSA subgroup(s) with a Federal Index below 41%. This plan shall be approved by the district. There are three ways a school can be designated as CS&I:

1. have a school grade of D or F
2. have a graduation rate of 67% or lower
3. have an overall Federal Index below 41%.

For these schools, the SIP shall be approved by the district as well as the Bureau of School Improvement.

The Florida Department of Education (FDOE) SIP template meets all statutory and rule requirements for traditional public schools and incorporates all components required for schools receiving Title I funds. This template is required by State Board of Education Rule 6A-1.099811, Florida Administrative Code, for all non-charter schools with a current grade of D or F, or a graduation rate 67% or less. Districts may opt to require a SIP using a template of its choosing for schools that do not fit the aforementioned conditions. This document was prepared by school and district leadership using the FDOE's school improvement planning web application located at www.floridacims.org.

Purpose and Outline of the SIP

The SIP is intended to be the primary artifact used by every school with stakeholders to review data, set goals, create an action plan and monitor progress. The Florida Department of Education encourages schools to use the SIP as a "living document" by continually updating, refining and using the plan to guide their work throughout the year. This printed version represents the SIP as of the "Date Modified" listed in the footer.

Analysis

Data Reflection

Answer the following reflection prompts after examining any/all relevant school data sources (see guide for examples for relevant data sources).

Which data component showed the lowest performance? Explain the contributing factor(s) to last year's low performance and discuss any trends.

Math lowest 25% Percentile dropped 5% from 2018 to 2019, the district only dropped 3%. A contributing factor is that our students with disabilities subgroup was at 34%.

Which data component showed the greatest decline from the prior year? Explain the factor(s) that contributed to this decline.

Math lowest 25% percentile and ELA lowest 25% percentile both dropped 5%. The contributing factor is that our students with disabilities subgroup was at 34%, this is the same subgroup that performs low in Math and ELA results.

Which data component had the greatest gap when compared to the state average? Explain the factor(s) that contributed to this gap and any trends.

Math lowest 25th percentile had a 19% gap below the state average. The contributing factor is that our students with disabilities subgroup was at 34%, this is the same subgroup that performs low in Math and ELA results.

Which data component showed the most improvement? What new actions did your school take in this area?

Math Achievement showed the most improvement, 11%. Our school offered year-round after school math tutoring. Specializing in Algebra and Geometry, EOC Academic Advancement Camps in the Spring also help boost scores at the end of the year.

Reflecting on the EWS data from Part I (D), identify one or two potential areas of concern?

Attendance below 90% and Level 1 on Statewide assessments need improving.

Rank your highest priorities (maximum of 5) for schoolwide improvement in the upcoming school year.

1. Math lower 25th percentile
2. ELA Lower 25th percentile
3. Math Learning Gains
4. Math Achievement
5. ELA Learning Gains

Part III: Planning for Improvement

Part IV: Positive Culture & Environment

A positive school culture and environment reflects: a supportive and fulfilling environment, learning conditions that meet the needs of all students, people who are sure of their roles and relationships in student learning, and a culture that values trust, respect and high expectations. Consulting with various stakeholder groups to employ school improvement strategies that impact the positive school culture and environment are critical. Stakeholder groups more proximal to the school include teachers, students, and families of students, volunteers, and school board members. Broad stakeholder groups include early childhood providers, community colleges and universities, social services, and business partners.

Stakeholders play a key role in school performance and addressing equity. Consulting various stakeholder groups is critical in formulating a statement of vision, mission, values, goals, and employing school improvement strategies.

Describe how the school addresses building a positive school culture and environment ensuring all stakeholders are involved.

Many say that the culture of a school is dependent upon the disposition of the Principal. Mrs. Brown's positive and nurturing personality is infectious. The staff at South Broward High School in turn exhibit the very positive nature that directly impacts our students. The key components of the positive school culture are incumbent upon the following ideals:

1. Building strong relationships

Our success at creating a well-managed school depends more than anything else on the quality of the relationships that teachers forge with students. But it starts from the top. A strong, unified and supportive administration can influence everything—from the social climate to the individual performances of our students. South Broward believes in making sure everyone knows they are feeling loved and respected. We do not have set days and times to recognize and promote great works. We do this frequently. The greatest tool is our PA system. It is not enough to show person praise. We let it be known schoolwide when great things are happening at South Broward High School. This is where it becomes infectious. Building strong relationships has become a school priority.

2. Teach essential social skills

Social skills are seen school wide. They are imbedded in our curriculum. The importance of sharing, caring, how to listen to others, how to disagree respectfully, and proper conflict resolution are the social skills we expect everyone to have. Regardless of grade level, background, age, we all can learn something new.

3. Be role models

At our school, students learn by watching just as they learn by doing. The comradery is off the charts. From our principal be active and interacting with the school and community through twitter, our school website, parent link, TEAMS conferences, and by phone. Everyone is kept up to date on what's happening at SBHS. Teachers in turn keep students up to date by making themselves available on similar platforms. One may ask, how does this make someone a role model? A role model is a person whose behavior, example, or success is or can be emulated by others, especially by younger people. School is the perfect environment where we show comradery, positive interactions, praise for successes and support when we fall short or meet challenges.

5. Clarify classroom and school rules

Here at South Broward we remind students of classroom rules, communicate our expectations, and allow students, teachers, and they community (SAC) to have input on how they should be rolled out and addressed. People buy into the rules set at SBHS because they had a hand its development. Once again, its adherence by inclusion. It shows everyone at SBHS “this is the positive environment you deserve”!
