School Board Approval

This plan is pending approval by the Duval County School Board.

SIP Authority

Section 1001.42(18), Florida Statutes, requires district school boards to annually approve and require implementation of a Schoolwide Improvement Plan (SIP) for each school in the district that has a school grade of D or F. This plan is also a requirement for Targeted Support and Improvement (TS&I) and Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CS&I) schools pursuant to 1008.33 F.S. and the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA).

To be designated as TS&I, a school must have one or more ESSA subgroup(s) with a Federal Index below 41%. This plan shall be approved by the district. There are three ways a school can be designated as CS&I:

1. have a school grade of D or F
2. have a graduation rate of 67% or lower
3. have an overall Federal Index below 41%.

For these schools, the SIP shall be approved by the district as well as the Bureau of School Improvement.

The Florida Department of Education (FDOE) SIP template meets all statutory and rule requirements for traditional public schools and incorporates all components required for schools receiving Title I funds. This template is required by State Board of Education Rule 6A-1.099811, Florida Administrative Code, for all non-charter schools with a current grade of D or F, or a graduation rate 67% or less. Districts may opt to require a SIP using a template of its choosing for schools that do not fit the aforementioned conditions. This document was prepared by school and district leadership using the FDOE's school improvement planning web application located at www.floridacims.org.

Purpose and Outline of the SIP

The SIP is intended to be the primary artifact used by every school with stakeholders to review data, set goals, create an action plan and monitor progress. The Florida Department of Education encourages schools to use the SIP as a "living document" by continually updating, refining and using the plan to guide their work throughout the year. This printed version represents the SIP as of the "Date Modified" listed in the footer.

Analysis

Data Analysis

Answer the following analysis questions using the progress monitoring data and state assessment data, if applicable.

What trends emerge across grade levels, subgroups and core content areas?

Trending across all content areas is the decline in proficiency. ELA lost an average of 3 percentage points in proficiency while Math lost an average of 4 percentage points in proficiency. Science decreased in proficiency by 21 percentage points. Additionally, both ELA and math decreased in learning gains and lowest-performing quartile learning gains with math declining by more than 20 percentage points in both subgroups.

What data components, based off progress monitoring and 2019 state assessments, demonstrate the greatest need for improvement?

Math learning gains and LPQ learning gains for our SWD subgroup demonstrate the greatest need for improvement.

What were the contributing factors to this need for improvement? What new actions would need to be taken to address this need for improvement?

The constant transition from virtual to face-to-face instruction was one of the contributing factors for the need for improvement. Many students received virtual instruction for the entire 2020-2021 school year which may not have been the most effective method of learning, including our fragile learners. Additionally, some of our 3rd-5th grade teachers instructed either virtually the entire year or conducted a hybrid model of instruction.

What data components, based off progress monitoring and 2019 state assessments, showed the most improvement?

Math and ELA across grade levels remained above 60% proficiency. Third grade ELA and math scored 69% overall proficiency and 4th grade ELA and math scored 68% proficiency in both content areas.

What were the contributing factors to this improvement? What new actions did your school take in this area?

Teachers unpacked standards through utilizing the Learning Arc and included the use of the Item Specifications and Achievement Level Descriptors when planning lessons, activities, and tasks. Additionally, teachers began vetting resources to determine rigor and alignment to the standards.

What strategies will need to be implemented in order to accelerate learning?

Teachers will tier students in both ELA and math to target learning gaps in small groups with weekly progress monitoring of student growth and progress. Math LPQ students will participate in teacher-led groups 4-5 days per week. Third through fifth grade students who are reading below grade level will receive corrective reading support to close reading gaps relating to foundational skill and comprehension.

Based on the contributing factors and strategies identified to accelerate learning, describe the professional development opportunities that will be provided at the school to support teachers and leaders.

Teachers will participate in structured common planning with admin where the emphasis will be on small group and teacher-led instruction that will target LPQ and below grade level learners. In addition to admin, teachers will have the support of the standard coach for collaboration, modeling, and providing coaching cycles when necessary.

Provide a description of the additional services that will be implemented to ensure sustainability of improvement in the next year and beyond.

Implementation of the effectiveness of small group instruction and teacher-led instruction will be monitored by admin by conducting weekly walkthroughs, monitoring data (both teacher and district), and providing feedback and support to teachers in order to ensure student learning and achievement.

Part III: Planning for Improvement

Areas of Focus:

#1. Instructional Practice specifically relating to Small Group Instruction

Area of Focus Description and Rationale: Based on our Standard Walkthrough data and classroom observations, teachers are beginning to demonstrate more autonomy with choosing resources and planning whole-group lessons that are aligned to the standards, however, less than 50% of teachers are using small group instruction with fidelity to target specific learning gaps. Learning and achievement will increase when teachers began to demonstrate more than identifying students who are below grade level and began to choose resources and develop lessons and tasks that address their specific needs. Additionally, students will excel when teachers conduct frequent progress monitoring opportunities and formative assessments to determine learning mastery and teaching effectiveness.

Measurable Outcome: Three out of 4 common planning sessions will be devoted to planning targeted small group instruction and developing tasks and formative assessments to determine mastery.

Monitoring: Implementation of the effectiveness of small group instruction and teacher-led instruction will be monitored by admin conducting weekly walkthroughs, monitoring data (both teacher and district), and providing feedback and support to teachers in order to ensure student learning and achievement.

Person responsible for monitoring outcome: Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

Evidence-based Strategy: Based on Dr. Felicia Bolden's study on How to Implement Small Group Instruction she states, "Instruction of children in small groups affords children and their teachers invaluable and unique opportunities, that may not be possible in large group activities." Teachers are able to diagnose students' learning deficits and cater specific learning plans to meet their needs in content areas.

Rationale for Evidence-based Strategy: Being in close proximity to students allows the teacher to address misconceptions immediately that would not have been possible in whole group instruction. Students can ask specific questions and receive immediate feedback. Small group instruction allows teachers to ensure students have an equitable learning experience and learn academic content in a meaningful way.

Action Steps to Implement

Collaborate with admin team to organize content area common planning agendas to increase focus on developing small group lessons, tasks, and formative assessments.

Person Responsible Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

Utilize standards coach and content area leads on conducting common planning sessions focused on small group and teacher-led instruction.

Person Responsible Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

Conduct weekly classroom observations using Standards Walkthrough Tool to track the increase in small groups and teacher-led instruction.

#2. Culture & Environment specifically relating to Social Emotional Learning

Area of Focus Description and Rationale: When students lack appropriate social skills and self-regulation, they are more likely to engage in unwanted or disruptive classroom behaviors. These behaviors will affect learning if systems are not in place to help students develop mindfulness and self-regulating opportunities. Discipline data from 20-21 demonstrates reveals that over 50% of discipline referrals are written for our BQ students or SWD. Based on this data, we will need to focus on the support and growth of all students including our LPQ students and SWD. We will implement a school-wide shift that will focus on improving social skills and self-regulation with all students will thus improve students' academic performance.

Measurable Outcome: Student referrals will decrease to less than 25% for our LPQ students and SWD subgroups.

Monitoring: Teachers and staff will participate in early dismissal training on the implementation of the Zones of Regulation. Implementation will be monitored through walkthrough observations and IPDP beginning, middle, and end of the year progress.

Person responsible for monitoring outcome: Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

Evidence-based Strategy: The Zones of Regulation program will be utilized school wide as a daily way to improve students' social and emotional skills. This program helps students recognize their feelings and use tools and strategies to regulate them. Using this program in all classrooms with fidelity will improve students' ability to regulate emotions and improve social development which will improve student learning.

Rationale for Evidence-based Strategy: "The Zones of Regulation creates a systematic approach to teach regulation by categorizing all the different ways we feel and states of alertness we experience into four concrete colored zones. Integrating in cognitive behavior therapy, students build skills in emotional and sensory regulation, executive functioning, and social cognition. The framework is designed to help move students toward more independent regulation while also honoring and respecting each student and their unique self."

Action Steps to Implement

Teachers, staff, and the admin team participate in monthly Zones of Regulation training.

Person Responsible Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

Teachers and staff implement Zones of Regulation strategies daily.

Person Responsible Crystal Lewis (lewisc@duvalschools.org)

School counselors, military counselor, and mental health counselors provide small group and 1-1 support (targeting SWD and LPQ) to extend social and emotional support as needed.

Additional Schoolwide Improvement Priorities

Using the SafeSchoolsforAlex.org, compare the discipline data of the school to discipline data across the state and provide primary or secondary areas of concern that the school will monitor during the upcoming school year. Include how the school culture and environment will be monitored through the lens of behavior or discipline data.

New Berlin Elementary reported 0.6 incidents per 100 students. This rate is less than the statewide elementary school rate of 1.0 incidents per 100 students. New Berlin falls in the moderate category and ranks #743 out of 1,395 elementary schools statewide. The greatest area of concern is physical attacks scoring in the high level range. New Berlin will engage in a schoolwide implementation of Zones of Regulation which is designed to help students develop mindfulness, self-regulation, and emotional control.

Part IV: Positive Culture & Environment

A positive school culture and environment reflects: a supportive and fulfilling environment, learning conditions that meet the needs of all students, people who are sure of their roles and relationships in student learning, and a culture that values trust, respect and high expectations. Consulting with various stakeholder groups to employ school improvement strategies that impact the positive school culture and environment are critical. Stakeholder groups more proximal to the school include teachers, students, and families of students, volunteers, and school board members. Broad stakeholder groups include early childhood providers, community colleges and universities, social services, and business partners.

Stakeholders play a key role in school performance and addressing equity. Consulting various stakeholder groups is critical in formulating a statement of vision, mission, values, goals, and employing school improvement strategies.

Describe how the school addresses building a positive school culture and environment.

New Berlin created a positive school culture and climate by involving all stakeholders in the following ways:

- Social skills lessons with school counselors, mental health therapists, or military counselor.
- Teacher-student mediation and adult-led mediation.
- Problem-solving sessions with students to identify alternative actions and the positive or negative consequences of each alternative action.
- Classroom community building through Sanford Harmony activities and guidance lessons.
- Peer mediation- conflict resolution sessions with the student and other students that were harmed.
- Written letters of apology to those that were harmed.
- Daily encouragement of responsibility and ownership of one's actions through the guidelines for success (Bear Pledge).
- Classroom meetings and "buddy up" with targeted topics based on Foundations meetings and school needs.
- Student rewards such as positive referrals, Silver Spoons for cafeteria behavior, monthly Stupendous Student ceremonies, monthly and quarterly blended learning incentives, quarterly award ceremonies, and end of year award ceremonies.
- Faculty recognition including "shout-outs" in daily recaps emails, stars celebrations, monthly Whooty awards for excellence, auction dollars, and a yearly teacher auction.
- Development and implementation of the NBE Pillars of Citizenship for consistent conduct grades and school-wide behavior expectations.
- Development of Zones of Regulation to ensure students are mindful of their emotions and are able to regulate their emotions by using tools and strategies for overall wellness.

- Host various school events (on and off-campus) that invite stakeholders (i.e. Movie Night on the Lawn, Polar Express Night, Family Library Night at the Highlands branch, spirit night fundraisers at local restaurants)
- Active participation from various business owners and community partners in our monthly SAC meetings.

Identify the stakeholders and their role in promoting a positive culture and environment at the school.

New Berlin stakeholders and contributors to the positive school culture and environment are as follows:

- Community and Family Engagement partnerships host several events throughout the year such as to school award ceremonies, book fairs, play day, monthly PTA meetings, monthly SAC meetings, etc.
- Business partners such as Connect Church, Tropical Smoothie, Highlands Library, and others provide support for teachers and students through donations and sponsored events.
- PTA provides incentives for online learning, raises funds for school-related projects, conducts vision screenings, organizes blood drives, etc.
- SAC initiates activities and programs that generate greater cooperation between the community and the school, focuses on school safety and improvements, etc
- Teachers and staff provide high-level instruction for all students, develop student's social-emotional wellbeing through the implementation of programs such as Zones of Regulation, Calm Classroom, and Pillars of Citizenship. Counselors and therapists offer support to students who struggle in various academic and emotional capacities. Student enrichment activities such as Bear Parent Mentoring, Girls on the Run, National Elementary Honor Society, patrols, TOTs, news crew, etc are available to build relationships and school community as well as enhance leadership ability and academic skills.
